A Message from the President

Deborah F. Rutter

May is a month full of powerhouse programming from an artistic as well as institutional perspective. I welcome you to explore all that is on offer, from our first Ring Cycle to a wide-ranging festival of Irish arts and culture and the kick-off to the John F. Kennedy Centennial. Our halls will be positively buzzing with artistry.

The Opera House is your destination for Washington National Opera's The Ring of the Nibelung, Richard Wagner's epic four-opera saga of gods and men, giants and dwarves, directed by Artistic Director Francesca Zambello and conducted by Music Director Philippe Auguin. One of the biggest undertakings in opera, the Ring is a milestone in WNO's (and the Kennedy Center's) history with three complete cycles as well as lectures, education events, dining experiences, late-night happenings, and other social events.

May also features IRELAND 100: Celebrating a Century of Irish Arts & Culture, a three-week-long festival highlighting arts and culture from the Emerald Isle and its relationship to America. The festival includes dozens of performances from some of Ireland's best contemporary musicians, dancers, and theater companies as well as a literature series, documentary film screenings, educational activities, culinary events, installations, and workshops. Plus, the North Plaza transforms into an outdoor green space for picnicking, performances, food, drinks, workshops and more.

The Center marks the start of an expansive yearlong initiative marking and honoring the 100th anniversary of the birth of our namesake, the late President John F. Kennedy, with an evening ceremony and special Millennium Stage performance on May 29, 2016 (Kennedy's 99th birthday). The ensuing year promises a range of creative and dynamic programming, from performances to public initiatives to interactive events, with the aim to evolve and transform the institution to strongly connect with the ideals and legacy imparted by America's 35th President—Courage, Freedom, Justice, Service, and Gratitude—five quintessentially American values that represent the aspirational best of the country's character.

In case you missed it, our exciting 2016–2017 season has been announced and can be explored at kennedy-center.org/newseason.

Thank you for sharing these and many other extraordinary artistic moments with us.

American Acoustic with CHRIS THILE

In June, the Kennedy Center presents a special series curated by mandolinist, composer, and vocalist Chris Thile that explores the idea that tradition is innovation that lasts.

Known to international audiences as the Grammy Award®-winning member of the progressive acoustic groups Punch Brothers and Nickel Creek, MacArthur Fellow Chris Thile has also garnered acclaim for his wide-ranging collaborations and recordings that span from Bach to bluegrass. In American Acoustic with Chris Thile, the Kennedy Center presents this curated series of performances and events featuring many of his musician friends to guide audiences from the origins fueling new traditions in American string music to the diverse styles and artistry in today's creative landscape.

Chris Thile & Michael Daves

Chris Thile and guitarist Michael Daves first met in 2005 in New York's West Village where they would both regularly play at a weekly late-night bluegrass jam. In 2011, their collaborative recording Sleep with One Eye Open received a Grammy Award® nomination for Best Bluegrass Album. Thile and Daves meet again on June 22 in the Terrace Theater for a downtown Manhattan-style romp through the Bluegrass music canon.

Chris Thile, Gabriel Kahane, Julian Lage, and Merrill Garbus

Chris Thile brings together an eclectic group of musicians—singer-songwriter and composer Gabriel Kahane, jazz/folk guitarist Julian Lage, and vocalist and leader of the band Tune-Yards, Merrill Garbus—for a program of musical surprises in the Terrace Theater on June 23 that features each artist playing some of their own material and accompanying each other throughout the show.

Punch Brothers, Béla Fleck and Edgar Meyer, and I'm With Her

This blockbuster show on June 24 in the Concert Hall features an all-star lineup of Thile's closest musical friends. The acoustic quintet

Punch Brothers, of which Thile is a member, also includes guitarist Chris Eldridge, bassist Paul Kowert, banjoist Noam Pikelný, and violinist Gabe Witcher. World-renowned banjoist Béla Fleck and bassist/composer Edgar Meyer perform as a duo. The Americana acoustic trio

I'm With Her is comprised of singer-songwriter and fiddler Sara Watkins (a Nickel Creek co-founder), singer-songwriter Aoife O'Donovan, and singer-songwriter and multi-instrumentalist Sarah Jarosz. With a bill full of Thile's most frequent collaborators, this promises to be an extraordinary night.

Chris Thile Family Show

In a matinee show in the Family Theater on June 25 geared toward young people, Thile plays a solo set full of traditional and original music while also answering questions from the audience. This is your chance to get up-close-and-personal with the virtuoso musician.

Extending the festival's accessibility and reach to a wider audience, Thile also leads festival artists and fellow musicians in three educational events in the Atrium that are free and open to the general public—an Evening Jam Session on June 23 and two performance workshops on June 25, How to Play with Others with his Punch Brothers bandmates on instrumental collaboration and How to Sing with Others with Aoife O'Donovan and Sarah Jarosz, an open master class and workshop on vocal and string performance.

Creativity & Community. Connected.

RENDERING COURTESY STEVEN HOLL ARCHITECTS.

The Kennedy Center Expansion Project

For more than 45 years, the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts has served as the living memorial to President Kennedy by bringing an unparalleled diversity of arts to our nation's capital and serving a critical role as a leading provider of arts education initiatives across the United States and around the world.

To more deeply explore and provide a home for new ways in which the arts, education, and community intersect, the Kennedy Center has embarked on the first major expansion in its history. The expanded campus will create new opportunities for performances, informal gatherings, community outreach, and interaction between artists and audiences across the full spectrum of the creative process.

Renowned American architect Steven Holl has created an innovative design that preserves the silhouette of the current building and adds three pavilions visible above ground: an entry pavilion to welcome guests, an event pavilion overlooking the garden, and a river pavilion adjacent to Rock Creek Parkway and the Potomac River. The facilities will include studios, rehearsal rooms, media-ready classrooms, a traditional lecture hall, space to accommodate critical education programs, and an outdoor 30-by-54-foot wall for simulcast and video presentations, and a café/bistro meeting spot.

These new spaces are all designed to be flexible and create a new experience for members of the extended Kennedy Center community to interact and fully engage with the Center as a nexus of arts, learning, and culture.

A dynamic relationship between structure and environment is a cornerstone of this project. The unique landscape design provides visitors and patrons the opportunity to enjoy sculpture and interactive art, meticulously planned gardens, casual seating areas, and reflecting ponds, welcoming visitors in every season.

RENDERINGS COURTESY STEVEN HOLL ARCHITECTS.

Access to the expansion is provided by a ramp from the Rock Creek Parkway pathway. Sweeping views of the Lincoln Memorial, the Potomac River, and the river's bridges will mingle with the beautiful new glass structures and open-air performance spaces to create a distinctive new space for the city of Washington and its millions of visitors.

The expansion, scheduled to open in 2018, features:

- A flexible, 2,500 square foot performance space, along with three new rehearsal/multi-purpose spaces, a café/bistro, and 7,500 square feet of pre-function and event space.
- A large outdoor video wall, complemented by terrace seating for 1,620.
- A scenic walkway connecting the Center with the River and nearby memorials.
- Engaging and interactive art installations and digital enhancements that will allow the Kennedy Center to connect with millions of patrons through stimulating conversation and information sharing.
- Ample space for more meaningful and prominent memorialization of President Kennedy.
- Above-ground and below-grade connections, all ADA-compliant, between the expansion and the Kennedy Center.

Beyond the physical spaces, the expansion will offer a place for visitors to gather, reflect, learn, and interact with the arts across the full spectrum of the creative process. From casual, outdoor seating areas to reflecting pools and exquisitely-landscaped gardens, upon completion, the Kennedy Center will be not only a performing arts center, but an international destination for visitors of all ages.

For more information about the expansion, including a livestream of the construction site, please visit kennedy-center.org/expansionproject. A detailed model is also displayed for public viewing in the Hall of States.

David M. Rubenstein, Chairman
Deborah F. Rutter, President
Michael F. Neidorff, Campaign Chair

To support the expansion of its physical resources and meet the demand for more adventurous artistic, educational, and community-focused programming, the Kennedy Center has launched an unprecedented capital campaign.

The Building the Future campaign will raise more than $175 million in dedicated funds, in addition to current levels of annual contributed income, to underwrite the construction of new facilities and ensure that the Center has sufficient operating revenue to sustain and grow its world-class artistic and educational programming.

Thanks to a generous anchor investment from Kennedy Center Chairman David M. Rubenstein, as well as substantial leadership support secured during the early phase of this campaign, the Kennedy Center has raised 75% of its goal to-date.

As the Kennedy Center embarks on this monumental endeavor and simultaneously celebrates John F. Kennedy's upcoming centennial, we hope that all those who interact with the Center—whether patron, student, educator, supporter, volunteer, or visitor—will feel drawn to this important and significant project.

A campaign of this scale requires support at all levels—providing crucial funds to honor President Kennedy's legacy through the performing arts, arts education, and community outreach. For more information on how you can play a role in building the future of the Kennedy Center, please visit

kennedy-center.org/buildthefuture or contact the Building the Future team directly at (202) 416-8025 or buildthefuture@kennedy-center.org.

In his final State of the Union address, President Kennedy said "to further the appreciation of culture among all the people...to increase respect for the creative individual, to widen participation by all the processes and fulfillments of art—this is one of the fascinating challenges of these days."

As the living memorial that bears his name, the Kennedy Center will continue to fulfill this vital mission as we become more than a performing arts center; we will transform into an international destination and resource for visitors, arts lovers, and learners of all ages.

Carmina Burana

CARL ORFF (1895–1982)

Text from 11th and 12th century poems

I.

*O Fortuna, velut Luna statim variabilis,
semper crescis aut decrescis; vita
detestabilis
nunc obdurate et tunc curat ludo mentis aciem.
egestatem, potestatem dissolvit ut glaciem.
Sors immanis et inanis, rota tu volubilis,
status malus, vana salus semper dissolubilis,
obumbrata et velata mihi quoque niteris;
nunc per ludum dorsum nudum fero tui
sceleris.
Sors salutis et virtutis mihi nunc contraria
est affectus et defectus semper in angaria.
Hac in hora sine mora corde pulsum tangite;
quod per sortem sternit fortem, mecum
omnes plangite.*

II.

*Fortune plango vulnera
stillantibus ocellis, quod sua mihi munera
subtrahit rebellis.
Verum est, quod legitur
fronte capillata,
sed plerumque sequitur
occasio calvata.
In Fortune solio
sederam elatus,
prosperitatis vario
flore coronatus;
quicquid enim florui felix et beatus
nunc a summo corruui
gloria privatus.
Fortune rota volvitur:
descendo minoratus;
alter in altum tollitur;
nimis exaltatus
rex sedet in vertice
caveat ruinam!
Nam sub axe legimus Hecubam reginam.*

PRIMO VERE

III.

*Veris leta facies
mundo propinatur;
hiemalis acies*

I.

O Fortune, like the moon ever changing first rising then declining; detestable life treats us badly then with kindness, making sport with our desires, causing poverty and power alike to melt like ice.
Fearful destiny and empty fate, wheel ever turning, who makes adversity and fleeting health alike to vanish, darkly and secretly you work against me;
through your trickery my naked back is turned unprotected to you.
Good fortune and strength now are denied me; Affliction and defeat are always in waiting. Come now without delay and pluck the strings; and since by fate the strong are brought down, weep now all with me.

II.

I lament Fortune's wounds
with tearful eyes,
for returning to the attack
she takes her gifts from me.
It is true as they say,
the handsome head
now covered with fine hair
may yet lose it all.
Once on Fortune's throne
I sat exalted and wore prosperity
like a floral wreath.
But from this flowered paradise, happy and blessed,
I was brought down and stripped of my glory.
Fortune's wheel keeps turning,
I fall in disgrace while another is exalted.
But as the King sits on high let him beware his ruin!
For beneath the axle of Fortune's wheel behold
Queen Hecuba.

IN SPRINGTIME

III.

The joyous face of Spring
is revealed to the world.
Winter's army

Flora principatur;

Flore fusus gremio
Phebus novo more

Cytharizat cantico

is vanquished and routed;
in dappled and colored dress
is Flora arrayed,
and the woods sweetly resound
with birdsongs in her praise.
Reclining in Flora's lap, Phebus once more laughs merrily,
covered with many hued flowers.
Zephyr inhales
the perfumed fragrance;
so questing for the prize,
let us compete in love.
Trilling her song,
sweet Philomel is heard
and with flowers smiling,
the peaceful meadows lie,
a flock of birds
rises from the woods,
a chorus of maidens
brings a thousand joys.

IV.

*Omnia Sol temperat purus et subtilis;
novo mundo reserat facies Aprilis,
ad amorem properat animus herilis,
et iocundis imperat deus puerilis.
Rerum tanta novitas in solemnibus vere et veris auctoritas iubet nos gaudere;
vias prebet solitas; et in tuo vere fides est et probitas tuum retinere.*

*Ama me fideliter, fidem meam nota
de corde totaliter et ex mente tota.
Sum presentialiter absens in remota,
quisquis amat taliter, voluitur in rota.*

IV.

All is tempered by the Sun so pure and refined;
the new world reveals the beauties of April,
to thoughts of love the soul now turns,
and in the realm of pleasure the young god reigns.
Nature's great renewal in solemn Springtime
and Spring's spectacle bids us to rejoice;
so keep to the right path and in your Springtime,
be faithful and honest to your beloved.
Love me faithfully, and see how I am faithful with all my heart and with all my soul.
I am with you even when I am far away;
whoever loves this much is turned on a rack.

V.

*Ecce gratum et optatum ver reducit gaudia,
purpuratum floret pratum,
sol serenat omnia.
Iam iam cedant tristitia!
Estas redit, nunc recedit hyemis sevitia.
Iam liquescit et decrescit grando, nix
et cetera;
bruma fugit, et iam sugit, ver
estatis ubera;
illi mens est misera,
qui nec vivit, nec lascivit sub estatis
dextera.
Gloriantur et letantur in melle dulcedinis,*

V.

Behold the welcome, long awaited Spring,
which returns our pleasure and strews flowers all around.
The sun pacifies all; away with sadness!
Summer returns and now departs
cruel winter.
Melt away and vanish, hail, ice and snow;
the mists flee and Spring nurses at Summer's breast;
wretched is the man
who lives not nor lusts under Summer's spell.
They know delight and taste

The noble forest with flowers and leaves is decked.
Where is my old, my longtime lover?
He rode off on horseback, alas, who will
love me now?
The forest is all in bloom, but I long for my

The forest is all in bloom, where has my lover gone?
He rode off on horseback, alas, who will
love me now?

VIII.

Merchant, give me colored paint
to paint my cheeks a pleasing red,
that I will make these young men love me whether they will or not.
Look at me, young men! Let me be your pleasure! Love, all you honest men, all women who are worthy!
Love shall raise your spirits
and put a spring in your step.
Look at me, young men! Let me be your pleasure! Hail to thee, O world, that is so bountiful!
I am ever in thy debt
most surely for thy goodness.
Look at me, young men! Let me be your pleasure!

IX.

They who here dance round are all young Maidens who will have no man all this summer long.
Come my dear beloved, I have waited for you so long,
Sweet rosy mouth, come and make me well again, come and make me well again, sweet rosy mouth!

*Estuans interius ira vehementi
in amaritudine loquor mee menti:
factus de materia, cinis elementi,
similis sum folio, de quo ludunt venti.
Cum sit enim proprium viro sapienti supra petram ponere sedem fundamenti, stultus ego comparor fluvio labenti,
sub eodem tramite nunquam permanenti.
Feror ego veluti sine nauta navis,
ut per vias aeris vaga fertur avis;
non me tenent vincula, non me tenet clavis,
quero mihi similes, et adiungor pravis.
Mihi cordis gravitas res videtur gravis;
iocis est amabilis dulciorque favis;
quicquid Venus imperat, labor est suavis,
quae nunquam in cordibus habitat ignavis.*

inplicor et vitiis immemor virtutis,
voluptatis avidus magis quam salutis, mortuus in anima curam gero cutis.*

olim pulcher extiteram,
dum cygnus ego fueram.
Miser, miser! Modo niger et ustus fortiter!
Girat, regirat garcifer;
me rogos urit fortiter;
propinat me nunc dapifer.
Nunc in scutella iaceo,
et politare nequeo;

IN THE TAVERN

XI.

*Boiling inside with violent rage
bitterly I speak my mind:
made of matter, risen from dust,
I am like a leaf tossed on the wind.
But where the wise man builds his house
on a firm foundation, I, poor wretch, wander like a river,
never keeping to a single direction.
I drift along like a ship with no pilot,
or an aimless bird carried by the wind;
no chains bind me, no lock holds me,
I seek others like me, the ravaged and depraved.
My heart's burdens weigh heavily upon me;
joking is pleasant, sweeter than honey;
whatever Venus dictates is pleasurable labor,
she dwells not in timid hearts.
I walk the wide path as youth is wont to do,
caught up in vice, I forget virtue,
I pursue only pleasure and neglect my health,
dead in spirit, I care only for the flesh.*

XII.

*Once in lakes I dwelt,
once I dwelt in beauty
when I was a swan.
Woe is me! Now I am black, roasted on a spit!
Round and round I turn,
roasted through and through.
Now the serving boy approaches me.
Now I lie in a serving dish,
no longer can I fly;
gnashing teeth I see before me!*

XIII.

*I am the abbot of Cucany,
and I like to drink with company,
I am of the sect of Decius,
who meets me early in the tavern
by evening has lost his clothes,
and having lost them cries out:
O woe, woe! What have you done, O Fate?
All our life's pleasures thus to take away!*

of the grave,
but rush to the gambling tables, where we always toil.

What happens in the tavern, where drink is gotten with a coin, if you wish to know, then listen to what I say.

Some men gamble, some men drink,
some live indiscreetly.

Of those who choose to gamble, some lose all their clothes,
others win new clothes, the unlucky
now wear sackcloth.

But there is no fear of death, for Bacchus's sake we throw the dice:

First the dice are thrown for wine;
this the libertines drink down;

two toasts to the prisoners, then three
to the living,

four to all Christian souls, five to
the departed,

six to the wayward sisters, seven to the wanderers.

Eight to the delinquent brothers,
nine to the dispersed monks,

ten to the navigators,
eleven to those at war,

twelve to the penitent,
thirteen to travelers.

Then to the Pope and to the King,
all drink without restraint.

Mistress drinks, master drinks,
soldier drinks, parson drinks,

this man drinks, that woman drinks,
servant drinks and serving maid,

the quick man and slow man drink,
the white and black man drink,

the homebody and wanderer drink,
the fool and wise man drink,

pauper drinks, sick man drinks,
exile drinks, the unknown drinks,

young one drinks, old man drinks,
bishop drinks, deacon drinks,

sister drinks, brother drinks,
old maid drinks, mother drinks,

this one drinks, that one drinks,
a hundred drink, a thousand drink.

Six hundred coins are not enough when all of them drink too much and lose all restraint. Even though they are cheerful,

many people curse us, always short of money.

THE COURT OF LOVE

XV.
Love flies everywhere,
and captured by desire.
Young men and women find their mates.
Whoever lacks a partner
misses all the joy;
and carries in the depths of her heart
the darkness of night:
what a bitter fate.

XVI.
*Dies, nox et omnia michi sunt contraria,

XVI.
Day and night, all the world opposes me,
young girls' voices make me weep,
or the sound of sighing makes me tremble.
O friends, be merry, say what you will,
but show mercy, for great is my sorrow,
so counsel me for your honor's sake.
Your lovely face causes me a thousand tears, for your heart is like ice. But I would be restored at once to life by a single kiss.

XVII.

A young girl stood in a red tunic;
if anyone touched her, the tunic rustled.
Heigh ho. A young girl stood fair as a rose;
her face was resplendent, her mouth like a

My breast is filled with endless sighs, longing for your loveliness, and how I suffer.
Manda liet, manda liet, my lover does not come.
Your eyes are bright as the rays of the sun,
as the splendor of lightning that lights the darkness.
Manda liet, manda liet, my lover does not
come.
May the gods grant the plan I have in mind:
to release her from the bonds of her chastity.

XX.

Come, come, pray come, do not let me die.
Hyrca, hyrce, nazara; trillirivos.
Your face is so lovely, your shimmering eyes,
your braided hair, how beautiful you are!
Redder than the rose, whiter than the lily,
fairer than all others, I shall always glory in you!

XXI.

In the scales of my indecision
love's pleasure and chastity are weighed.
But I choose what I see, I submit myself to the yoke,
which, after all, is sweet.

XXII.

Pleasant is the season, o maidens,
now rejoice, young men.
Oh, I blossom with pure love,
I am aflame with new love,
from which I perish.
My love comforts me with promises,
but her refusals then torment me.
In Wintertime a man becomes lazy,
but Springtime makes him lively.
My chastity teases me,
but my innocence and timidity hold me back.
Come, darling, come joyfully,
come sweet beauty, lest I die.

XXIII.

Sweetest boy,
I give myself completely to you!

BLANZIFLOR AND HELEN

XXIV.

Hail to thee most lovely, most precious jewel,
hail, pride of virgins, glorious virgin,
hail, light of the world, hail, rose of the world,
Blanziflor and Helen, hail, noble Venus.

XXV.

O Fortune! Ever changing, like the moon,
first rising, then declining...

Meet the Artists

Dr. Thea Kano, a Northern California native, became active in the arts at an early age. She started playing piano at age four and began taking ballet soon after, a background that has a strong influence on her conducting. Dr. Kano's graceful yet commanding presence on stage and the robust performances she obtains from her musicians have basis in her formal training as a dancer.

Dr. Kano has conducted an extensive range of repertoire with several ensembles, including the Angeles Chorale and The Washington Chorus, and in 2014 assumed the position of artistic director of the Gay Men's Chorus of Washington, DC, for which she also directs its acclaimed ensembles Rock Creek Singers and Potomac Fever. In addition, she oversees GMCW's outreach efforts, including its GenOUT program. A champion of music education, Dr. Kano has devoted countless hours to students of all ages and backgrounds. She believes in the power of music to nurture and believes that classical music should be accessible to all. Dr. Kano's substantial experience in this arena includes: building partnerships with organizations serving disenfranchised adults, hosting workshops with at-risk youth, leading youth arts programs of many sizes, as well as directing award-winning high school and collegiate choruses.

In addition to her work with GMCW, Dr. Kano serves as the artistic director of the New York City Master Chorale, which she founded in 2005. The 80-member group is recognized as one of the finest vocal ensembles in New York City and has performed to sold-out audiences on two continents. Dr. Kano is known for her expressiveness and dynamic conducting and the Chorale has been praised for its balance and richness in tone in performing a variety of musical styles. Under her direction the Chorale made its debuts at Lincoln Center (2006) and Carnegie Hall (2009), as well as its international debut in Paris, France (2011).

Dr. Kano has prepared choruses for Zubin Mehta, Esa-Pekka Solonen, Emil de Cou, David Hayes, Craig Fleischer, Victor Vener, and Paul Salamunovich. Dr. Kano's various ensembles have performed at the Kennedy Center, Lincoln Center, Carnegie Hall, St. Patrick's Cathedral, Disney Hall, Église

Saint-Sulpice (Paris), and on the National Mall for the 2009 inaugural ceremonies.

Dr. Kano received her doctorate in choral conducting from the University of California, Los Angeles in 2004. At UCLA, Dr. Kano studied under Donald Neuen, her professional mentor. For her dissertation on Duruflé's Requiem, Dr. Kano completed research with L'Association Duruflé in Paris and studied privately with Paul Salamunovich. Dr. Kano holds a master of music degree from UCLA and a bachelor's degree in choral music education and piano performance from Arizona State University. Dr. Kano speaks French and actively conducts ensembles in New York City, Paris, and Washington, D.C.

C. Paul Heins joined the GMCW artistic team as assistant conductor in the 2014–15 season. Dr. Heins was previously the director of the Concert Choir at Georgetown University, where he also taught music theory, piano, and introduction to voice, and served as music director for the university's opera and musical theater productions. He served as director of the Lesbian & Gay Chorus of Washington for nine seasons and was music director for three GMCW musicals (Ruthless, When Pigs Fly, and You're a Good Man, Charlie Brown). Past appointments also include the Washington Master Chorale (assistant conductor), Washington Men's Camerata (accompanist), and an interim position as choir director at the College of William & Mary. Dr. Heins is delighted to be the conductor of the GenOUT Chorus, founded last season and featured at all of GMCW's major concerts this year. The GenOUT Chorus is open to all young people ages 13–18, and its twofold mission is to give a voice to young LGBTQ people and their allies and to connect those young people to community. This season the GenOUT Chorus will be featured at the GALA Choruses Festival in Denver. Dr. Heins is the director of choirs at the Bullis School and is a frequent guest pianist, flutist, and conductor in the D.C. area. He was trained in piano and flute at Bowling Green State University (B.Mus.), flute at the University of Maryland (M.Mus.), and choral conducting at the University of Maryland (D.M.A.). His principal teachers have been Edward Maclary, Patrick Walders, and Mark S. Kelly (conducting); William Montgomery and Judith Bentley (flute); and Virginia Marks and Victoria Harris (piano). His doctoral work centered around Lukas Foss' cantata The Prairie.

Now in his 33rd season as GMCW's principal accompanist, Theodore Guerrant ("Dr. Teddy") is arguably the longest-tenured collaborative pianist for a single chorus within the entire GALA Choruses network. He has been honored in various ways throughout his three decades of service including a Circle of Excellence Award in 2001, with a plaque honoring his 25-year milestone in 2008, and, finally, with a Distinguished Service Award from the Gay and Lesbian Activists Alliance in 2011 for his long tenure with GMCW. He began with GMCW in 1983 as co-accompanist with Jim Holloway, and has served under every GMCW conductor from founding director Jim Richardson to Thea Kano; traveled with the Chorus to various cities across the United States, two Canadian provinces, and three Scandinavian countries; and can be heard on several GMCW recordings and in Paula Bresnan Gibson's book, Voices from a Chorus.

Dr. Teddy, who grew up in College Park, Georgia, during the 1950s, studied with his aunt, Eliza Holmes Feldmann, who was then artist-in-residence at Brenau College in Gainesville, Georgia, throughout his high school years. He eventually found himself, as a high school senior, accompanying five choral ensembles and playing five Sunday church services weekly. From there he went on to receive degrees in keyboard performance from the University of Georgia (B.M. piano cum laude; M.F.A. harpsichord), the University of Wisconsin (M.M. piano), the University of Maryland (D.M.A. piano), and the Peabody Conservatory of Johns Hopkins University (G.P.D. organ), and studied piano additionally in Buriton, England, with Denise Lassimonne.

Aside from GMCW, Dr. Teddy is organist-chorister at St. Margaret's Episcopal Church (where Dignity worships), accompanist for the National Philharmonic Chorale (formerly the Montgomery County Masterworks Chorus and now the resident chorus of the Strathmore Music Center in Rockville), where he was recently given an award for his 30 years of service to that organization, and associate director-accompanist for the Central Maryland Chorale. He teaches on the staff of the University of Maryland School of Music (where he has also served for more than 30 years) as a coach-accompanist.

Chase Maggiano is the executive director of the Gay Men's Chorus of Washington, DC (GMCW). As one of the largest-budget choruses in the country, GMCW has flourished under his leadership and vision. Mr. Maggiano nearly doubled community programming activities, garnered international press attention, increased fundraising with the organization's multi-year giving program, and resolved lingering debt issues. He has helped bring GMCW to a new position of prominence by expanding the inclusivity of the mission and programming, creating the first LGBTQ and allied youth chorus in Washington, and forging relationships with local and international presenters, including an historic concert tour of Cuba.

Prior to joining GMCW, Mr. Maggiano served in arts education and fundraising roles at Washington Performing Arts. Prior to his arts management career, he was director of business development for a fast-growing tech company outside of Washington. Growing up locally as a classically trained violinist, Mr. Maggiano has combined his lifelong dedication to music and entrepreneurial spirit to ensure that more art happens in Washington. He remains an avid violinist and shares his perspective on the business of art at www.chasingtheart.com.

The mission of the New York City Master Chorale is to make a significant statement for choral excellence. To this end the Chorale, which consists of trained musicians from the greater New York City area, broadens public interest in fine choral music by performing a full range of musical styles at the highest level of quality. The Chorale also educates the public through a regular program of outreach concerts and workshops for groups that might not otherwise have the opportunity to learn about and experience choral music.

The New York City Master Chorale has performed at a variety of venues, including Riverside Church, Church of St. Paul the Apostle, Church of St. Mary the Virgin, Trinity Wall Street, Symphony Space, New York University's Skirball Center for the Performing Arts, St. Patrick's Cathedral, Lincoln Center's Alice Tully Hall and Avery Fisher Hall, and Carnegie Hall. Ms. Cutrona made her international debut in 2011 performing Paul Leavitt's acclaimed Requiem at Église Saint-Sulpice, the largest church in Paris (the Requiem's international premiere), with Dr. Thea Kano conducting. The beautiful Requiem has also taken her to Lincoln Center's Alice Tully Hall and Ms. Cutrona was honored to sing it for the ten-year anniversary of September 11 at St. Paul's Chapel at Ground Zero, and again in Washington, D.C., just steps from Capitol Hill, on September 11, 2011. Friends of the Kennedy Center

Volunteers Who Impact the Arts

Comprising more than 500 members, the Kennedy Center's volunteer organization, Friends of the Kennedy Center, is truly the public face of the Center. The spirit of volunteerism was thriving years before the 1971 opening of the Center, when a small group of dedicated women came together to volunteer in 1965 and worked to raise millions of dollars as a match for the funds donated by Congress. They also solicited embassies for gifts to the Center. This small group evolved into the present-day Friends—women and men, representing multiple generations from around the world—who give their time throughout the year.

Serving most visibly in the public areas of the Center, the Friends lead tours for the building's thousands of visitors and provide information to patrons at the Visitors Center. In addition, they staff the Gift Shops, concession stands, and Members' lounges in the Concert Hall, Eisenhower Theater, and Opera House. You can also see them working at the Center's many special festivals. They also work behind the scenes on tasks as varied as assisting with Millennium Stage performances, helping in educational and administrative areas, doing voiceovers, writing for the Center's website, and maintaining the Center's extensive patron database.

If you are interested in becoming a part of this dynamic and vital group at the nation's performing arts center, find out more by going online to kennedy-center.org/support/volunteers.

Join the Friends, make friends, and make a difference!

This month we are featuring Friends of the Kennedy Center's Gift Shop volunteers.

Starting in 1971 with a simple card table, a cigar cash box, and a few souvenirs, the Gift Shop volunteers have always worked alongside paid staff, providing extraordinary teamwork and exceptional customer service to the Center's patrons. Today's beautiful glass and chrome Kennedy Center Gift Shop is the place to find a wide variety of performing arts-related products.

VIRGINIA ULIANA

The Artistic Legacy of President John F. Kennedy

On January 20, 1961, John F. Kennedy was sworn into office as President of the United States. During his short time in the White House, he not only brought the power of the arts to the residence itself but also to the Capital and the nation. Today, the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts stands as a tribute to his vision, a living manifestation of all that he embodied and a national monument to this exceptional figure.

John F. Kennedy inherited a world torn by racial, religious, and cultural tensions, yet he was able to make giant strides to bridge the numerous divides. One of the ways he achieved this was through his commitment to, and belief in, the arts. Between 1961 and 1963, he crafted a diverse cultural program for the White House that showcased the world's best art for visiting political figures from around the globe—dance performed for diplomats from Iran, opera for India, music for Peru, Afghanistan, and Pakistan. These intimate concerts reflected Kennedy's belief in the cross-cultural power of the arts.

On October 26, 1963, Kennedy spoke at Amherst College of the contribution of the arts to the human spirit. His inspiring words are etched in the marble walls of the Kennedy Center: "I look forward to an America which will reward achievement in the arts as we reward achievement in business or statecraft...I look forward to an America that will not be afraid of grace and beauty."

Thus it is fitting that, more than just an architectural landmark, the Kennedy Center is a vibrant champion of the arts, devoted to presenting both national and international companies of exceptional quality, as well as training tomorrow's leaders in both performance and arts management. As the lights go down and the curtain rises, the legacy of John F. Kennedy is center stage every night.

Arts Access for All

MyTix offers affordable opportunities for young arts lovers.

In the fall of 1963, President Kennedy declared in a speech at Amherst College, "I look forward to an America...which will steadily enlarge cultural opportunities for all of our citizens." The Kennedy Center is committed to this mission of inclusion through its many outreach efforts, including the new MyTix program.

Designed for patrons 18 to 30 years old as well as active duty members of the armed services, MyTix makes the performing arts more accessible and affordable. Qualified patrons can register at kenedy-center.org/mytix to receive frequent discount offers and special free ticket giveaways, in addition to other benefits such as discounts on food and beverage service and at the Gift Shops. With low-cost and free tickets, it's easier than ever for young patrons to see a Broadway hit, hear a symphony concert, experience an opera, or try something totally new.

The MyTix community is more than just performances, with free pre-show happy hours, post-performance meet-and-greets with artists, and gatherings around town. And MyTixers can connect online with @kennedytix on Twitter.

In addition to serving our Millennial and active-duty U.S. military service member patrons, MyTix reaches out to meet the needs of the community with increased access to performing arts events. If you represent a community group in need, visit the MyTix website for more information.

MyTix, part of the Rubenstein Arts Access Program, is generously funded by David and Alice Rubenstein.

Roger L. Stevens Society

The members of the Roger L. Stevens Society are supporting the long term financial future of all performances and education programs produced by or presented by the Kennedy Center. They have put bequests into their wills or made the Kennedy Center a beneficiary of their retirement plans, trusts or charitable gift annuities. The Roger L. Stevens Society is named for our Founding Chairman without whom we would not have the Kennedy Center. We thank him and the Society members for their extraordinary and thoughtful generosity.

Donors Make a Difference

The Kennedy Center recognizes Building the Future Campaign major supporters Steve and Christine Schwarzman and Suzanne Niedland.

Stephen A. Schwarzman is Chairman, CEO, and Co-Founder of Blackstone. Mr. Schwarzman has shaped the cultural landscape of our nation through his many philanthropic endeavors: in 2015, he donated $150 million to Yale University to establish the Schwarzman Center, a first-of-its-kind campus center in Yale's historic "Commons" building; in 2013, he founded an international scholarship program, "Schwarzman Scholars," at Tsinghua University in Beijing to educate future leaders about China. Additionally, in 2007, Mr. Schwarzman donated $100 million to the New York Public Library on whose board he serves. Most recently, his philanthropy included an extraordinary pledge of $10 million to the Center's Building the Future Campaign.

allow the Center to represent the ideals of the late 35th President by inviting artists and audiences to come together for a range of activities, including casual performances, outdoor events, lectures, and opportunities for artists to leverage state-of-the-art spaces to master their crafts.

"As Chairman Emeritus of this esteemed organization it is an honor to help the Kennedy Center kick-off its first major capital campaign and enable the innovative expansion of its South Plaza. The Kennedy Center has played an important role in showcasing American arts and culture and we are proud to support its very worthy mission."

Mr. Schwarzman and his wife Christine have been deeply involved with the Kennedy Center since Mr. Schwarzman's term as fifth Chairman of the Center from 2004-2010. Based in New York City, Mr. Schwarzman and Christine are actively involved with many civic and cultural organizations around the country.

The Kennedy Center salutes the Schwarzmans for their years of unwavering support and for their investment in the future.

As the Kennedy Center's first major physical expansion and capital campaign, the project will

"As we expand our iconic campus and living memorial to President Kennedy, it is a privilege to work with individuals like Steve, Christine, and Suzanne, who recognize the value of the arts, its important place in our society, and the necessity for philanthropic advocates to support growth," says Kennedy Center President Deborah F. Rutter.

Suzanne Niedland is the personification of the adage, "Lead, follow, or get out of the way." A member of the National Committee for the Performing Arts since 2009, Suzanne is currently a Member-At-Large, serving as the face of the Center's artistic and educational vision throughout her home community of the Jupiter and Palm Beach regions.

Suzanne has also been a part of the Kennedy Center International Committee on the Arts since 2013, which allows her to share her passion for encouraging international exchange in the arts community. In 2015, Suzanne elevated her role and now serves as Co-Chair of the KCICA.

Today, Suzanne's commitment to the Kennedy Center's continued success is further exemplified by her desire to shape the Center's long term legacy. In addition to her current roles on the NCPA and KCICA, her contribution to the Building the Future Campaign helps solidify the Center as one of the world's premier performing arts venues and ensures that its productions and educational work will be enjoyed by generations to come.

In addition to the Kennedy Center, Suzanne actively shares her love of the arts with the world as an award-winning filmmaker, actress, and ballroom dancer. Suzanne also contributes her leadership to several arts-focused boards including an appointment by Governor Scott to the Florida Film and Entertainment Advisory Council.

Individual contributions enable the Center to deliver the kind of excellence on the stage and in our many programs for children, teachers, aspiring artists, and underserved communities that patrons have come to expect. In the past seven years, Suzanne's dedication to the Center has grown exponentially with her interests. She exemplifies a patron with an extraordinary commitment to the performing arts and to the Center's mission. For this, the Kennedy Center is most thankful.
